WHAT HAS ISRAEL GOT TO HIDE?

Editorial Spring 2002

Palestine

Several readers have written asking why we devote so much coverage to the struggle in Palestine. True, the Palestinians are not white Europeans but their plight parallels problems that we face in Britain, Europe and other parts of the world. Nationalists often use the term ZOG (Zionist Occupied Government). Well, the Palestinians are the living example of victims of Zionist occupation and Zionist power. Their land is stolen from them, they are told where they can and cannot live and are regularly humiliated by the occupying force. But such is the power of Zionism throughout the world that few countries even dare to criticise Israel. We nationalists face Zionist power every time we seek self-determination for our own people. Zionism does not appreciate challenge, it crushes resistance to The New World Order wherever it can. Our struggle for freedom from Zionist oppression mirrors that of the Palestinians.

"We Are Taking Our Country Back" is a slogan often used by European nationalists and this is precisely what the Palestinian freedom fighters such as Hamas are doing. Taking their country back from the Israeli occupiers.

Whilst we European nationalists have the limited opportunity to get recognition through the democratic process, the Palestinians have none. Whilst we distribute leaflets and argue our case, the Palestinians are quite literally willing to make the ultimate sacrifice to defeat the enemy. We make no apology for covering the Palestinian struggle.

Victory to Hamas and the Palestinian people!

One of the biggest criticisms levelled by Sharon, Bush, and Blair at Palestinian freedom fighters is their targeting of Israeli civilians as well as military personnel. This condemnation carries more than a whiff of hypocrisy coming as it does from the leaders of Israel, the United States and Britain. Who were the main targets and casualties in the Sabra and Chatila refugee camps destroyed by the Israelis? Who were the main targets and casualties in the massacre by US troops at Mei-Lai? And who does Tony Blair believe RAF and US bombers were slaughtering during the bombing of Dresden?

Congratulations

Our congratulations to the British National Party for their successes in the recent local elections. Their victory is even sweeter given it was achieved in the face of a well-funded smear campaign by an unholy trinity of a biased media, communist agitators and the race relations industry.

The task ahead for the newly elected BNP councillors in Burnley is onerous. They are now the representatives, the public face of British nationalism and any mistakes made will be seized on by a media determined to destroy their credibility.

Good Luck!

Hiding The Truth

ISRAEL BANS PROBE INTO MASSACRE was the headlines in one of Britain's national newspapers as news broke of the United Nations decision to abandon its fact-finding mission into allegations of atrocities committed in the Palestinian refugee camp of Jenin by Israeli soldiers. But what has Israel got to hide?

It cannot be the massacre of hundreds of Palestinian civilians killed when heavily armed Israeli soldiers deliberately destroyed refugee homes burying an untold number of civilians in the rubble.
It cannot be the summary executions of Palestinian fighters who had thrown down their weapons and surrendered only to be shot in the back of the neck.
It is true that Israel would prefer to prevent the world knowing the truth about the atrocities committed by mis-named Israeli Defence Forces in Jenin, as the deliberately impossible demands set by the Israelis to the UN mission clearly demonstrates.

- The Israeli government must decide in advance whom the UN team can interview.
- The UN investigators cannot reach a conclusion or issue a report on their findings.
- Any evidence gathered cannot be used in any war crimes trial prosecution.

Whilst all of the above give concern to the Israelis, it is safe in the sure knowledge that no meaningful sanctions will ever be implemented by a United Nations subservient to the US veto.
For as Ariel Sharon said on October 3rd last year, "Every time we do something you tell me America will do this and will do that ... I want to tell you something very clear. Don't worry about American pressure on Israel. We the Jewish people control America, and the Americans know it."

So what could Israel be hiding? What hideousy must be hidden at all costs?

For the answer we must first enquire as to the present location of the hundreds of Palestinian men seized by Israel in raids across the province. In Jenin, Bethlehem, Hebron and Ramallah, Palestinian men and youths were dragged from their homes, trussed and blindfolded and taken into custody for "interrogation".

Does the secret lie in a report by Amnesty International that revealed that last October the Israeli parliament (The Knesset) overturned a High Court order forbidding the torture of Palestinian prisoners by Israel's General Security Services (GSS). The Knesset reinstated physical torture, including the deliberate breaking of bones, as an approved method of "Interrogation".

Our sources suggest that even this is not the real secret that Israel must hide from the rest of the world.

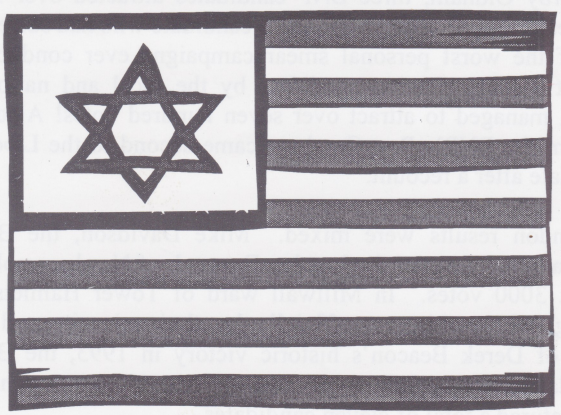

The horrifying truth is ...

Israel is deliberately murdering young Palestinian men and removing vital organs from their bodies for use in transplants!

This staggering fact was in part admitted by the Israeli Minister of Health, Nessim Dahhan, who in answer to a question by an Arab member of the Knesset, Ahmed Teibi, about the removal of organs from Palestinian corpses replied, "I couldn't say for sure that this doesn't happen".
Mr Reibi claims that doctors at the Israeli forensic institute at Abu Kabir regularly plunder suitable Palestinian corpses for organs.
It is believed that many of the Palestinians dragged from their homes are at present being held near Abu Kabir awaiting inspection by the Zionist equivalent of Dr Mengele, who gauge their suitability to become unwitting organ donors. Those chosen to make the ultimate sacrifice are then slaughtered and their corpses butchered for the benefit of "Greater Israel".

Perhaps being a little cynical, we wonder would it make much difference if Israel's terrible secret were to be made public. Remember the words of Ariel Sharon just a few months ago ...

"We the Jewish people control America, and the Americans know it"!

NEWS AROUND BRITAIN

Midlands Breakthrough For BNP

The British National Party confounded their critics when they won three seats on Burnley council in the recent local elections. These were the first seats ever won by the BNP in the Midlands.
The first of the results to be announced was that of Worsthorne ward, where 36-year old David Edwards polled 898 votes to enter both Burnley council and the record books.

This victory was closely followed by the result for Rosegrove and Lowerhouse ward, where Carol Hughes, an attractive 38 year-old mother of one child, polled 751 votes. But even as these results were being announced Gannow ward was facing a recount involving a Labour and BNP candidate. It was not until the early hours of Friday morning, and five recounts later, that the BNP's Terry Grogan, a former paratrooper and Falklands veteran, was announced the victor. Mr Grogan polled 817 votes to the Labour candidates 813. A victory by just four votes.
But a victory just the same!

Although these were the only outright victories for the BNP its support in the Midlands was generally high, giving the BNP optimism for the next election.
In nearby Oldham, three BNP candidates attracted over 900 votes each and even Mick Treacy, a candidate who had suffered one of the worst personal smear campaigns ever conducted against a local election candidate by the local and national media, managed to attract over seven hundred votes! Also in Oldham the BNP's Ray Goodwin came second to the Liberal candidate after a recount.

In London results were mixed. Mike Davidson, the BNP mayoral candidate for the London Borough of Newham polled almost 3000 votes. In Millwall ward of Tower Hamlets, a borough where whites are officially the ethnic minority, and the scene of Derek Beacon's historic victory in 1993, the BNP candidate, Gordon Callow polled 204 votes (6%) in a contest that featured a total of eleven candidates.

Nottingham

Right-wing extremists are being blamed for vandalising a Holocaust memorial in Nottingham's Bramcote Park. The memorial, a statue depicting a Holocaust victim, was created by artist and Auschwitz survivor, Naomi Blake.
The memorial had been erected by the local Broxtowe Council on the 27th of January last year to mark the introduction of Holocaust Day.
No evidence has been presented indicating that the vandals had a political motive and the local police confirmed that they were just treating the incident as one of criminal damage.

London

A 32 year-old male nurse was the latest victim of a spate of racist attacks in Bethnal Green, East London. The nurse was on his way home from the Royal London Hospital when he was attacked by five black youths who called him a "white bastard" before beating him to the ground where he was repeatedly punched and kicked.

Amnesty For Illegal Immigrants Planned

The Government is planning an amnesty for some 40,000 illegal immigrants living in Britain to reduce the backlog of asylum cases still waiting to be heard.

The 40,000 will be given "special leave to stay" without having to prove that they left their native country because of a "genuine fear of persecution". The immigration service is struggling to deal with the flood of asylum seekers arriving every month and have admitted they have absolutely no chance of making any real impact on the backlog of cases waiting to be heard. Consequently, the new government scheme will allow those that have been here for more than two years, and have not yet been interviewed to determine if their case for asylum in genuine, will be told they can stay.
All will then have the same entitlement to welfare rights of any British citizen

This is not the first time the government has granted such an amnesty. In 1997, 20,000 asylum seekers who had vanished into the black economy were allowed to stay.

Liverpool

In a staggering move to restrict free speech, Liverpool University has banned any criticism of Zionism whether it is written or verbal. The ruling twenty-one members of the Students Guild voted unanimously on a proposal that any criticism of Zionism would be interpreted as anti-Semitic.
Two members of the university's Jewish Society, Daniel King-Scott and Russell Collins proposed the motion, which was warmly welcomed by the Union of Jewish Students (UJS) Chairman, Alan Senitt.
Mr Senitt said, "Anti-Zionism has no place on any university campus".

London

An Arabic translation of Adolf Hitler's, Mein Kampf is now being sold by Arab bookshops in London. The book, written by Hitler whilst in prison has been revived by a Lebanese publisher. The Arabic translation is already a bestseller in Palestinian and London sales are reported to be brisk. In the preface of the Arabic translation the translator, Luis-al-Haj states, ... "National Socialism did not die with the death of its herald. Rather, its seeds multiplied under each star".

Predictably, the Board of Jewish Deputies have asked several of its tame MPs to raise the matter with the Home Secretary.

Nottingham

Plans by Nottingham University Student Union to invite historian David Irving to address its debating society have been condemned by several non-student groups.
These include, the London-based, Jewish Board of Deputies, The Holocaust Educational Trust, Nottingham's Beth Shalom Holocaust study centre and the Nottingham Hebrew Congregation.
The university authorities stated, "Whilst we would not wish to override union plans, we do have to balance freedom of speech with the potential security problems".
This heavyweight opposition prompted one student to ask, "What are they terrified of?"

David Irving: A Terrifying Figure For Some!

London

The Jewish Board of Deputies instructed the Guardian newspaper to censor items on its website after questions relating to the medieval ritual murders of Christians were raised on its interactive chat section recently. The Guardian, no doubt fearful of the potential loss of advertising revenue, complied immediately. A Guardian employee told League Sentinel, "It's true. He who pays the piper calls the tune."

David Irving Fights On!

Many would like to see the beleaguered historian, David Irving, written off. They are going to be disappointed. One of his strongest virtues is resilience and only a man in tune with the truth and in possession of such formidable self-confidence would return to the legal minefield of the Appeal Court to take on some more heavily funded opposition. This he did at a hearing of the Appeal Court on May 22-24 in an attempt to prevent Deborah Lipstadt and Penguin Books gaining possession of his only home, a flat in Duke Street, along with his personal possessions.

Irving is philosophical regarding the outcome of yet another bout of litigation and has recently confessed to feeling the strain of the pressure put on him during the now famous libel trial in which he lost. We must remember that he stood alone without lawyers and without an army of "experts" lined up behind him, in contrast to the Lipstadt/Penguin team. He calculates that the trial took up 2,000 man-hours of his personal and domestic life, burning the candle at both ends well into the night. That is resilience!

He is philosophical regarding the real reason for this fight. It goes beyond that quagmire of historical and moral contention called the Holocaust and the drawn-out drama of the Second World War ... the subject of an enormous mountain of published literature for the last fifty-odd years; Irving's works being the cherry on the icing.

As he pointed out recently, in anticipation of the coming fight ahead, it is far more basic and far-reaching. To use his words, "It is the very right to research, write and publish history as it really happened, without the distorting influence of wealthy vested interests".

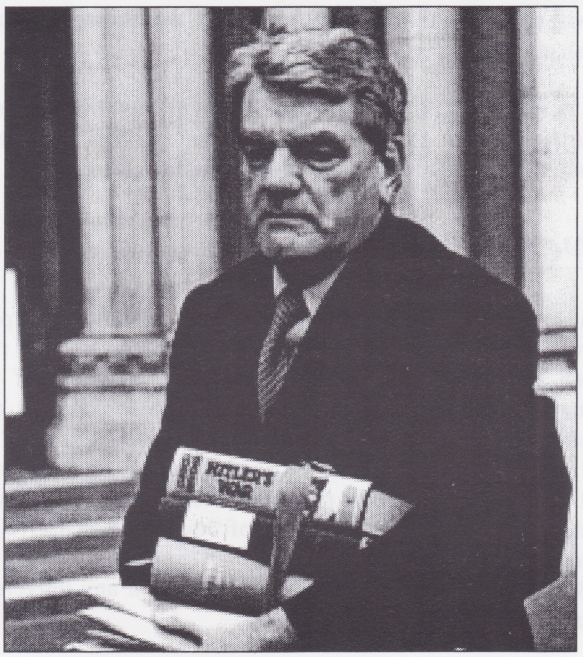

Anyone involved in the fight for truth for any considerable length of time cannot fail to appreciate those words and their significance. All the cant and humbug that is spouted by every apologist for "democracy and freedom" in this land of hypocrisy is seen for what it really is. It is a smoke screen for oppression and misrepresentation ... because true freedom of expression is, as the ordinary man in the street really knows, non-existent in Britain.

Some say that Irving took on too much by fighting alone in the courtroom. After all, he is not legally trained and the world of litigation is a maze of complicated procedure, semantic nit-picking and, to top it all, the outcome is already arrived at behind the scenes before the Clerk of the Court first utters those memorable words, "Court arise!" on the first day.

On the other hand, by conducting his own case it gave him the opportunity to confront the devious Lipstadt who, being aware of Irving's encyclopaedic knowledge of the events 1939-1945, was too gutless to take the stand before him. Likewise, the Holocaust survivors who stayed in the background because, according to Irving, her lawyers had advised Lipstadt that he would "reduce their stories to shreds". Denied such an opportunity, we will never know ... but what an admission!

Irving's other battle is now with Guardian Newspapers Ltd, along with The Observer. For Deborah Lipstadt, read Gitta Sereny ... author of a turgid, disjointed and boring tome on Albert Speer's struggle with his conscience after his release from Spandau prison. Apparently, Irving had got in first to interview Hitler's favourite architect, a fact that Sereny cannot come to terms with. She begrudges him his reputation as a historian respected so much that access to archives was as easy as saying, "Open Sesame!" She was never quite so fortunate for the simply reason that she did not measure up to Irving's stature as a researcher and writer. Envy and jealousy breached the bounds of healthy rivalry.

Gitta Sereny joined the forces lined up against Irving by allowing her petty jealousy to spill over into the pages of The Observer, sister paper of The Guardian. In it she accused Irving of theft, cheating, faking documents and much more. After that came a fresh attack exposing Irving's "backers" or, more accurately, his supporters, described as "a few thousand crackpots". Financial irregularities vis à vis his fighting fund is also implied. Success breeds jealousy ... and with jealousy there invariably follows rumour.

The historian David Irving has his hands full again

We would like to think that out of all this would spring justice, as the fair-minded understand the term. After all, hope springs eternal ... but that is not enough to win through.

Even if Irving produced the Archangel Gabriel as his star witness to give testimony to the truth we know, deep in our hearts, that before him is a formidable force backed up by untold wealth determined to put him out of business for good.

For what Irving describes as the "traditional enemy" there is too much at stake for them. Only their version of history must prevail and, as today's events become history, so their version can only be told.

Irving stands alone against this evil Goliath - his parents chose his forename with uncanny foresight. © RHE

WANTED!

FOR CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY

Ariel Sharon, Prime Minister of the bandit state of Israel, the Butcher of the Sabra and Chatila refugee camps in Lebanon (1982) and now the Butcher of Jenin and other cities in the Palestinian Territories (2002). Below are the horrifying results of recent incursions by the Israeli Defence Force acting on his orders. The pretext was the American-inspired "war on terrorism" but has turned out to be a campaign of genocide against the Palestinian peoples ... the indigenous occupants of the historical land of Palestine.

These photographs of Zionist barbarity expose the full horror of Sharon's activities in the Palestinian city of Jenin where many hundreds are buried beneath the rubble of the refugee camps.

Homes have been destroyed, families torn apart, women widowed and children orphaned.

The sheer enormity of these crimes is greater than all the "ethnic cleansing" promoted by the former Serb leader, Slobadon Milosovic, now arraigned before the court in The Hague.

Apart from the murderous criminals in Rwanda, Ariel Sharon has a longer record of war crimes than any in the last twenty years.

We call for Sharon to be indicted for war crimes and the state of Israel to be stigmatised as a rogue state with an agenda of genocide.

The "international community" must isolate Israel whilst giving all moral and material support to the Palestinian peoples in their time of agony.

The United Nations resolutions on the situation must be acted upon in the name of a common humanity otherwise we believe this internationalist institution will expose itself as being as worthless as its predecessor, the League of Nations ... a mere talking shop unable to impose any authority.

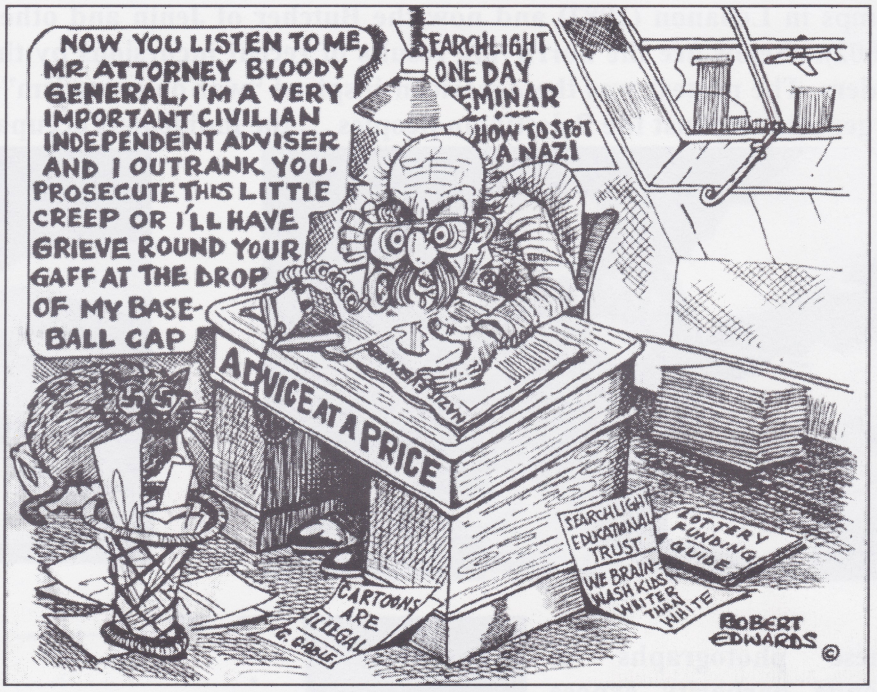

We call for intervention by the European Union, not only for pressure to be applied on America and Israel, but also for the creation of a European peace force to enter the area.

The Palestinians must not be sacrificed on the altar of Zionism.

Psychological Profile of an Anti-Fascist

In this issue we delve into the mind of perhaps the most disturbed and mentally confused of political animals, the paranoid, tunnel-visioned, professional anti-fascist, otherwise known as "the enemy". We have taken a sample out of random, and although unique in its obvious entrepreneurial expertise, it maintains the basic psychological traits and personality disorders associated with the fantasising "man on a mission" against anyone who disagrees with his version of reality. The anti-fascist views anyone, even those indifferent to its inane ramblings, as a potential Jew-hating storm trooper and wants everyone to know it.

Imagine if you will, a small boy at school feeling lonely and friendless. He feels alienated from the others. The others have long noticed something different about this strange boy; perhaps he is physically repulsive or has odd mannerisms. It could be that his religious background is different to theirs, which is magnified at times like Easter and Christmas. As a result, the others stone him regularly, Old Testament-style, and these events in his formative years leave both psychological and physical scars. He later rationalises the treatment meted out to him, discounting his physical repulsiveness or his odd quirks of character, and puts it down to anti-Semitism.

The strong need for revenge is etched deep into his psyche and begins to affect his relationships with others in the adult world. He discovers others of his ilk and joins the Communist Party, a vehicle for the maladjusted and those who have always felt "different".

Many with his religious background, although non-practicing, have veered towards the communist cause for no other reason than "the party" offered a kind of ideological home for those who were rejected and taunted by their peers at an early age. Jews, homosexual Cambridge graduates, ex-public schoolboys and the guilt-ridden middle classes of the Hampstead liberal persuasion, all of them were finding common cause with the horny-handed sons of toil.

Their hatred of England was manifested in their worship of the Soviet Union, a proletarian paradise under the guiding hand of the "fatherly" Joseph Stalin. Ignoring the famines, the genocide of class-war enemies and Stalin's own purges of prominent Jewish Bolsheviks, their new ideological home was utopia to them … as well as being an act of rejection of the society that did not treat them fairly when they were younger.

As communists, our brave new class warriors were able to define their enemies and dream of a time when justice would be meted out, probably summarily, leaving them as top dogs instead of as outsiders. Since the 1930s, the decade of ideological extremes, for communists (and neo-Marxists) the issue of Jewish identity attained a prominence culminating in the Holocaust and its hallowed memory.

Leaving the problem of capitalism aside, the war against fascism, as seen through communist eyes, is inextricably linked to anti-Semitism in all its forms and, as such, many Jewish activists became involved in the communist struggle. Theirs was a purely Jewish affair within the ranks of the "proletarian" party and many viewed themselves, by dint of their personal identification with the Holocaust, as being at the forefront or vanguard of this struggle.

One such is our random subject, a life-long dedicated communist, self-styled researcher, independent adviser to anyone who will listen, television audience participant, media political pundit after a race riot, police informer and general all-round "know-it-all".

But he is more than this in his confused world of sticking his nose in where it is not wanted and then claiming he was asked for his advice. He is your archetypal professional anti-fascist who long ago discovered that by being half-Jewish he could scare the pants off some sections of the Jewish community in Britain with his conspiracy theories based entirely on gossip and half-truths. He now peddles these to the police.

Our subject takes himself so seriously in this role that his main characteristic is a complete lack of humour, replaced by a vituperative malevolence, denouncing even other "researchers" of the Left as puppets of the fascists or, more paradoxically, as police informers.

He would like to see all British and European patriots banged up for "incitement" and regularly makes complaints to the Race and Violent Crimes Task Force with which he identifies himself.

The probable truth is that he is more a pest and a hindrance, an opinion gleaned from my conversations with police officers from Deputy Assistant Commissioner John Grieve's task force going about their lawful duty with a search warrant for the second occasion in my home.

Our random subject's arrogance and inflated sense of importance extends to openly demanding that the Attorney General does his bidding as laid down by the professional anti-fascist. "Get off your rear end" is the less than diplomatic order to this high-ranking lawyer ... the language of the guttersnipe who does not always get what he wants.

Deputy Assistant Commissioner John Grieve at a meeting of the Board of Deputies of British Jews

John Grieve, however, should not be underestimated with or without some help from his anti-fascist friends. Our random subject is small fry compared to this political copper and we cannot fathom the logic behind Grieve ever asking him to proffer advice, independent or otherwise.

Police intelligence officers, for example, are carrying out infiltration of "far-right" groups, with emphasis on the British National Party. The entire gambit of surveillance, including telephone tapping, mail opening and scrutinising of bank accounts and medical records, is part of Grieves' modus operandi as the scourge of the "extreme right".

He can also have access to information from the National Criminal Intelligence Service, the Inland Revenue, The DSS, immigration services, Customs and Excise, British Telecom and the benefits and credit agencies. Now who needs a "civilian independent adviser" with that lot in your pocket?

Oh, and for those going on holiday, the police will monitor some alleged racist activists ... even when out of the country.

When next you are handed a glossy monthly magazine claiming to be "international" and "against fascism and racism" treat it as a joke compared to the sophisticated machinations of the Old Bill who, let us face it, are the real law in this country and not the professional anti-fascists.

The main subject of this article has, alas, been marginalized as a consequence of his meddling and insistence on being part of the new police policy of employing the same methods and resources against suspected racists that were used against the IRA and other terrorists.

As Grieve told a meeting of the Board of Deputies of British Jews in London last year, "I've locked up terrorists, murderers and armed robbers ... now I am dedicated to locking up racists".

A senior police officer told The Daily Express, "Mr Grieve is aiming to build comprehensive computer files on the country's active racists, their relatives and associates ... we plan to close down these organisations by using every administrative device available to us ... the ultimate intention is to bring a series of criminal charges against the ringleaders of racist organisations and the thugs who follow them".

John Grieve is treading a dangerous path that leads ultimately to a suspension of liberties in the form of free speech and expression or, in a nutshell, to a police state.

Which group or individual determines who is a "racist"? Is it our anti-fascist publisher and "civilian independent adviser" ... the politically correct busybodies who sit on this or that committee telling us all, including the police, what to think or say? This arbitrary labelling is suggestive of Stasi-style informing, leading to the creation of fear and suspicion in the community.

The only role left for the professional anti-fascist is as a police informer, a nark, a Kapo or someone who simply points the finger with a complaint.

The hypothetical situation of the mass arrests of racists and their possible imprisonment would not solve the race issue in Britain because those labelled "racists" are not responsible for the social consequences of a state-imposed multi-cultural policy. They are not responsible for voluntary ghettoes, cultural differences, bad housing, unemployment and urban decay.

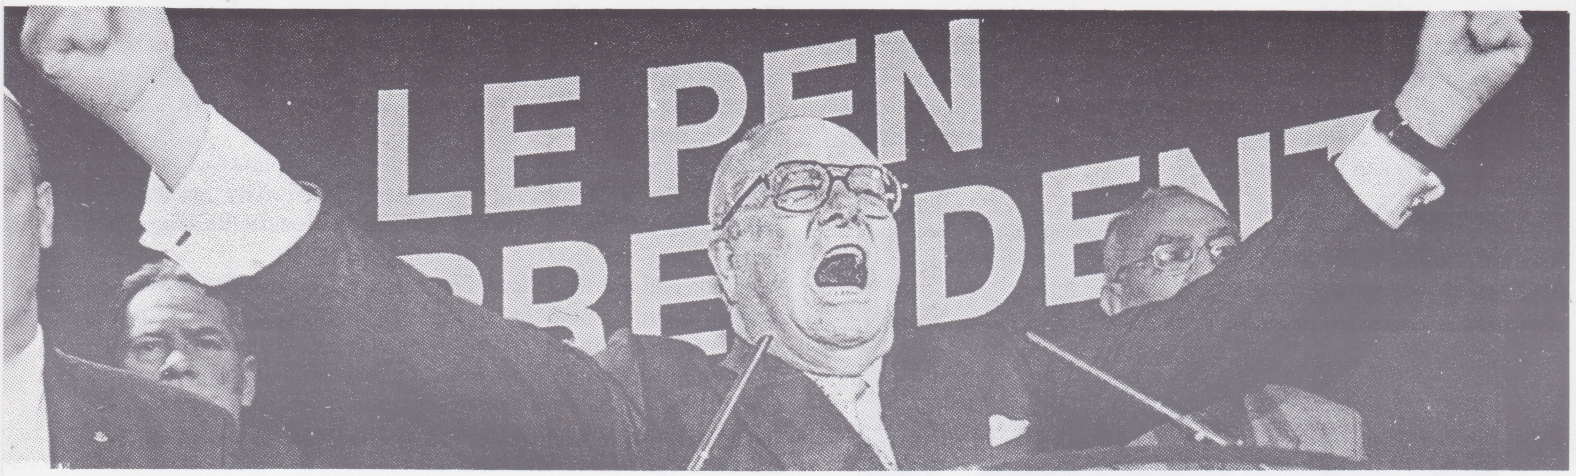

The real incitement to hatred comes from those who refuse patriots a platform and a voice, thereby suppressing the inner most thoughts, feelings and aspirations of so many of our ordinary, decent, law-abiding countrymen. The real incitement comes from policemen like John Grieve who threaten us with a new totalitarian state where "dissidents" are monitored, hounded, persecuted and threatened with imprisonment. The real incitement comes from those who aid and abet them along this path to another form of intolerance. And they are equally and palpably guilty as the law would have it in another context.

Our professional anti-fascist (independent adviser and publisher of a monthly glossy) is now out of his depth or perhaps he has been around too long to serve any real purpose any more.

STOP PRESS! ... Since the writing of this article, news has filtered down that the dreaded Deputy Assistant Commissioner has decided to retire from the Metropolitan Police, thereby relinquishing his awesome powers of search, arrest and prosecution of racists. Someone as equally dedicated to waiting for his pension will no doubt replace John Grieve. © RHE

France

French communists and socialists were stunned when Front National leader, Jean-Marie Le Pen, attracted almost five million votes (17%) in the first round of France's Presidential elections, defeating the left's champion, Prime Minister Lionel Jospin.

A total of sixteen candidates had entered the first round of the Presidential campaign including several communist and socialist candidates and one nationalist rival, Bruno Megret of the Mouvement National Republicain
Mr Megret gained 670,000 votes (2.3%) and pledged his support for Mr Le Pen in the second round of voting.

So shocked was Prime Minister Jospin at his defeat he announced to stunned supporters his immediate resignation and total withdrawal from politics.

Mr Le Pen, a former paratrooper and party leader since 1972, campaigned on several points which included the end of foreign immigration into France, the deportation of immigrants with criminal records, the deportation of asylum seekers who had relatives living in other European Union countries, withdrawal from the European Union, the reintroduction of the French franc to replace the euro and the end to "social abortions".
Predictably, anti-democrats from France's extreme-left took to the streets to protest violently against the democratic decision by French voters and police were attacked and shops looted.

In the second round of voting, Mr Le Pen lost to the current President Jacques Chirac after an unprecedented smear campaign. Despite the smears Mr le Pen still managed to increase his vote to six million.
If this size of vote can be maintained for the General Election then Front National will become a major force in French politics.

Italy

Italy Prepares For Mass Deportations

The Italian government has announced that it plans to deport over 300,000 illegal immigrants. The plan, outlined by Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi to the Italian media, claimed that as illegal immigrants were now committing more crimes per head than native Italians, the only way to protect law-abiding citizens from "an explosion of crime" was to deport foreign criminals.
Mr Berlusconi confirmed that initial deportations had already taken place with 1,300 illegals engaged in criminal activity having been deported within a week.

Rhodesia

The murder of white farmers continues unabated in Zimbabwe (Rhodesia) following the re-election of Marxist dictator, Robert Mugabe. The latest victim is 53 year-old Terry Ford who was dragged from his car by a 20 strong gang of Mugabe's "war veterans" beaten then tied to a tree and shot several times. Calls for help made by Mr Ford to the police were ignored.
Mr Ford is the tenth white farmer to be murdered since Mugabe's thugs began seizing land from white farmers two years ago.

Netherlands

Dutch Nationalist Leader Murdered By Communist

Pim Fortuyn the leader of the anti-immigration, LEEFBAAR NEDERLAND party, (Liveable Netherlands) has been shot dead by a member of an extreme-left organisation.

Mr Fortuyn had hoped to lead his party to power in the forthcoming General Election.

The party, an electoral alliance of Dutch Nationalist parties, made huge gains all over the Netherlands in local elections and even managed to capture the balance of power in Rotterdam, the Netherlands' second largest city. Rotterdam, where over half the population are of black immigrant extraction, had been dominated by the Labour party since 1945. But now with 34% of the vote and 17 of the city council's 45 seats, Mr Fortuyns made Leefbaar Nederland the city's largest political party.
A key campaign theme for the General Election will be a halt to immigration and an end to legislation, which forbids the Dutch people from giving preference in jobs and homes to their own people. The Dutch authorities have confirmed that the election will proceed as planned.

World Court Tries To Stop Sharon War Crimes Trial

The Hague

The Dutch-based, International Court of Justice, also known as "The World Court" has ruled that serving heads or ministers of state cannot be tried for offences in another country's courts. The decision was based on a case in Belgium in which the former Congolese foreign minister, Yerodia Ndomnasi, was arrested on charges relating to the massacre of civilians in Rwanda.

Lawyers defending a writ issued by a Belgian court against Israeli Prime Minister, Ariel Sharon, for war crimes committed in 1982 against Palestinian civilians in the Sabra and Chatila refugee camps have asked for the writ to be cancelled.
Court officials have agreed to listen to a legal argument from representatives of the survivors of the Israeli massacre, who claim that a 1948 international convention on genocide, which Israel signed, supersedes all other international law and creates a position where Sharon could and should face charges.

One of the main witnesses expected to give evidence against Sharon has been mysteriously killed in his native Lebanon. Elie Hobeika, the former leader of a Christian militia, allegedly involved in the 1982 refugee camp massacres, was killed by a bbbomb hidden in his car. His death comes just weeks after he had agreed to travel to Belgium to give evidence against Sharon. Lebanese government sources called Hobeika's death "a targeted assassination".

Germany

Wartime Peace Campaigner's Grandson Fined

A grandson of Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's wartime deputy who flew to Britain in 1941 in an attempt to broker peace, has been fined 1,500 euros for "public incitement"

Wolf Andreas Hess, a 23-year old Munich student, was fined after putting a statement made by his grandfather on the Internet, which stated that there were no gas chambers at Dachau prison camp during the war and that the Americans had installed them afterwards.
In his defence, Hess told the court that he was not trying to incite anyone but was trying to assemble historical documentation about his famous grandfather.

CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

After Nuremberg: the road to another world war and mass murder in the interests of Israel and international Zionism

Rudolf Hess, Hitler's deputy, risked his life and reputation by flying alone from his native Germany on a mission of peace. He crashed in Scotland, was taken prisoner by the British and refused any consideration as a peace envoy. Churchill did not want to negotiate with Hitler's Germany and so the tragedy of the Second World War continued with enormous casualties on all sides. At the Nuremberg War Crimes Tribunal, Hess was found guilty of "conspiracy to wage war" … the ultimate irony in the judgement of the victors over the vanquished. He spent the rest of his life in Spandau prison. Today, with "peace" processes flying around like confetti in the wind, America and its puppets in Westminster openly plot to bomb countries that are no threat to the West. Bush and Blair, unlike Hess, conspire to wage war.

The "war against terrorism" is fast becoming a cliché many are beginning to feel has lost much of its original meaning and intent. History does repeat itself as parallels spring to mind. Britain declared war on Germany in 1939 in anticipation of the issue of Danzig flaring up through Polish intransigence. Danzig (now Gdansk in Poland) is historically a German city and rightfully belonged to the Third Reich. Its "free city" status and the Polish Corridor were obstacles to access to East Prussia … a disastrous consequence of the Versailles Treaty.

The "war against fascism" was decided on long before 1939 and talk of removing uncooperative statesmen has its parallels today with countries like Iraq, Syria and Iran. First come the moral rationale and the frame-up … then the bombs and guns come later. Cry, "Havoc!" and let slip the dogs of war.

The situation in the Middle East has long been critical and events are moving so fast that it is difficult to predict its outcome. The world looks on as Israel commits atrocity after atrocity in a campaign of planned genocide not seen since the massacres in Kosovo and Rwanda. The Palestinians have suffered too long for the misbegotten criminal state founded on an ancient prophecy and an eternal wrong. That criminal state is Israel and no Arab or other Muslim, anywhere in the world, will accept its right to exist … ever!

It is for this reason that America embarked on its "war against terrorism", unfolding into the wider scenario of a war against the enemies of Israel and those nations opposed to its existence.

A leaked Pentagon report reveals that Washington has plans to attack seven countries, including Iraq, Iran, Libya and Syria … with nuclear weapons if necessary. Entitled, "Nuclear Posture Review", the report regards Russia and China as possible future targets along with North Korea in the eventuality of an incursion into South Korea. Who said the Cold War was over?

The senior defence consultant who leaked the document, William Arkin, described it as "a chilling glimpse into the world of nuclear-war planners".

This can only be interpreted as a conspiracy to wage war and it is no wonder that America is one of only a few countries, including Israel, refusing to ratify the Rome statute setting up the International Criminal Court. The fear is that opponents of America (and Israel) could use the court for "politically-motivated" trials of American servicemen. Never mind the servicemen … it is the political leaders plotting and issuing orders that should be arraigned before this tribunal!

German justice minister, Herta Daeubler-Gmelin, insisted that the court, to be based in The Hague, would secure full global approval, with or without American support.

In the meantime, the framing of Iraq is the priority of Washington's War Party, after Colin "colon" Powell treads eggshells over Israel's violations in the Palestinian territories.

The internal affairs of any nation on earth are now scrutinised by Washington and its puppet states to the point that the leaders of these nations can only exist on the approval of President Bush.

Tony Blair seems blind to the catastrophic consequences of his sucking up to America and Israel on the issue of overthrowing the government of Iraq by military means. If he does not take heed of the voices within his own government, notably from Robin Cook and Clare Short, as well as most of his backbenchers, then he could have a revolt on his hands.

But "global" Tony seems more interested in the wishes of that other administration across the Atlantic. The vice-president, Dick Cheney, has recently visited Downing Street with the express purpose of putting pressure on Blair to tow the War Party line in Washington and, no doubt, the Jewish lobbies on both sides of the Atlantic are unified in bringing their opinions to bear on Bush's ally … or can we say, "partner in crime"?

Blair has repeatedly told Parliament that Saddam Hussein has acquired weapons of mass destruction and, being "politically unpredictable", is capable of "doing bad things" with them. To a fair minded-person, that would be a more fitting description of Ariel Sharon but then Saddam Hussein does not have that influence over the Western media enjoyed by Sharon's co-religionists … nor the political clout and influence of Blair's Middle East envoy, wealthy Labour Party fund-donor, Lord Levy.

Blair insisted there was evidence of the Iraqi leader's evil intent in the form of an intelligence dossier commissioned by Downing Street. This was to be part of the stitch-up to give Blair the alibi for committing British forces to an American-led military assault on Iraq, thereby eliminating a threat to Israel and "avenging the victims of September 11".

All the resources of MI5, MI6 and GCHQ were acquired, sucked dry of every detail of intelligence and filtered into the Joint Intelligence Committee, headed by former MI6 officer John Scarlett, with some conclusions that did not quite fit into Blair's scheme of things.

The JIC report dismissed categorically the belief that Saddam Hussein in any way supported or assisted in the attack on the World Trade Centre and refuted the idea that he financed, supported or protected al-Qa'eda operatives.

The Foreign Office had to admit "there is no evidence connecting Saddam Hussein to international terrorism".

As far as Iraq acquiring weapons of mass destruction is concerned, the JIC could offer no real evidence there either.

In our last issue of League Sentinel we emphasised the part that big oil companies played and continue to play in the Middle East and Central Asia conflicts, using dubious moral arguments for military intervention. In Palestine, we do not forget that racial and historical memories of ancient elemental forces are in play and prevent any form of co-existence in anything resembling peace. It is not only "the stink of oil" that motivates Zionist malevolence and aggression.

It is not just an elementary matter of a conflict between Jew and Arab, as some Jews empathise with the Palestinians … perhaps for genuine altruistic reasons or because they are realistic enough to recognise that Israel has a bigger fight on its hands than the Zionist hawks imagined.

Nevertheless, the struggle for national freedom is far wider and more pervading than what appear to be isolated events in one particular part of the world. The Palestinian catastrophe is the concern of all who value true national freedom. If the Palestinians lose everything then it is because the rest of the world stood by and did nothing. The very fact that young boys armed only with stones against American-built Israeli tanks are willing to risk their lives for their homeland should be an inspiration to us all. The courageous Farish Oudeh (pictured below) was killed after 21 days throwing stones at Israeli tanks.

It was the same in East Berlin in 1953 and later in Hungary in 1956. Then it was the Red Army and now it is the Israeli Defence Force in Palestine.

The world did nothing in 1956 and Hungary had to wait nearly forty years for the Soviet tyranny to collapse internally.

The new tyranny is an alliance of America, Britain and Israel that together conspire to wage war on countries that do not pose a direct threat to the West. Saddam Hussein does not or will ever possess weaponry that can penetrate to the heart of Europe … nor has he ever suggested he wished to do so.

The sole nuclear power in that part of the world is Israel, a rogue state established on the basis of the most spurious of claims - that of a pseudo-religious prophesy of ancestral return. Most Ashkenazi Jews are descended from the Khazars of Eastern Europe with no racial connection to Old Testament tribes. That is the first big lie!

The second lie is that Israel seeks an accord with the Palestinians. Ever since Israel's first Prime Minister, David Ben Gurion, stated that, "The Israeli Empire will extend from the Nile to the Euphrates", Zionist Jews have used this alleged threat to their security as an excuse for expansionism. The conspiracy to wage war on some countries in that area is an integral part of Zionist expansionism.

War crimes have already been committed in the Palestinian territories, with further war crimes on the agendas of Washington and Whitehall. Will they ever be brought to justice? © RHE

BNP Win Seats Despite Vicious Smear Campaign

Smear Of The Year

The British National Party achieved their best ever performance in local elections despite facing the most hostile and biased media campaign seen in Britain for many years. Indeed, our research shows that never before have national newspapers conducted such a campaign of hate against a party standing in local elections.

The smear campaign seemed to be spearheaded by the once respectable Daily Express. As early as the 24th of April the Express used its front page to proclaim "Stop These New Nazis" The front-page story detailed some BNP candidates criminal convictions, most of which were many years old, and continued with this theme on two more pages inside the paper. In a show of unbelievable bias, the Express quoted as its source Searchlight publisher, Gerry Gable, a convicted felon himself. But of course no mention was made of this!

On the same day, the left-wing Daily Mirror newspaper also used its front page to inform readers that a Mirror reporter had actually infiltrated the BNP and had a "shocking expose" on pages 4 and 5 within.

This "shocking expose" turned out to be no more exciting than Mirror journalist Jon Clements had managed to "infiltrate" the BNP's summer camp last year by the simple route of paying the £10 entrance fee!

Details of alleged interviews with happy (but wet) campers followed with, we suspect, more than a little use of journalistic licence.

The following day's Express featured a two-page spread entitled, "We Must Reject Repellent Racism". This was actually a story relating to "President" Tony Blair's comments on the success of French nationalist leader Jean-Marie Le Pen in the first round of the French presidential elections.

Once again journalistic licence was well in evidence with spurious "quotes" from Home Secretary David Blunkett saying he was worried about the "BNP achieving Le pen style success". In a deliberate attempt to "smear by association", the Express used the old tactic of including on the same page stories relating to recent crimes committed against Jews in Russia and Germany.

On Wednesday May 1st, just 24 hours before polling opened, the Daily Express (or Daily Nazi as it was by then becoming known) carried another two pages of smear, this time claiming that the BNP were delighted that the Conservatives were not standing candidates in many of the seats that BNP were contesting. Again the "smear by association" tactic was used on the same page as the BNP story this time with an article on the vandalising of a North London synagogue. This attack, apart from the timing being extremely convenient, featured three mysterious aspects. One was the use of green paint (the colour of Islam) being poured on the floors and walls, the second the strange sight of a union flag being left propped against the synagogues lectern, and finally the obligatory swastika crudely painted on the lectern.

On Election Day itself, the Daily Express carried more information about BNP candidates than the BNP website.

A front page featuring photographs of 20 BNP candidates with the heading "Vote These Nazis Out" was accompanied by two more pages inside detailing where the BNP candidates were standing. Surprisingly the Express did included positive comments on some of the candidates, such as … Carol Hughes. Polled 23.5% in a by-election…Andrew Kenyon. Ex-Para wounded in the Falklands is standing because he wants a "British future for my children". Of course, the newspaper then had to spoil it by including an article "Don't Allow Apathy To Let In The Nazis" by Simon Wooley, the "totally unbiased" organiser of the racist, "Operation Black Vote" organisation.

Despite this unparallel smear campaign the BNP did achieve a moderate level of success. And, whilst we respect the freedom of the press we must ask … should the media, most of whom are either controlled by owners with strong links to the establishment parties, or beholden for their financial survival to advertisers with vested interests, be allowed to interfere with future democratic elections?

WANTED

FOR CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY

Ariel Sharon, Prime Minister of the bandit state of Israel, the Butcher of the Sabra and Chatila refugee camps in Lebanon (1982) and now the Butcher of Jenin and other cities in the Palestinian Territories (2002). Below are the horrifying results of recent incursions by the Israeli Defence Force acting on his orders. The pretext was the American-inspired "war on terrorism" but has proven to be a campaign of genocide against the Palestinian peoples … the rightful occupants of the historical land of Palestine.

These photographs of Zionist barbarity expose the full horror of Sharon's activity in the Palestinian city of Jenin where many thousands are buried beneath the rubble of the refugee camps.

Homes have been destroyed, families torn apart, women widowed and children orphaned.

The sheer enormity of these crimes is greater than all the "ethnic cleansing" promoted by the former Serb leader, Slobadon Milosovic, now arraigned before the court in The Hague.

Ariel Sharon has a longer record of war crimes than any in the last twenty years or so, apart from the butchery in Rwanda.

We call for Sharon to be indicted for war crimes and the state of Israel to be stigmatised as a rogue state with an agenda of genocide.

The "international community" must isolate Israel whilst giving all moral and material support to the Palestinian peoples in their time of agony.

The United Nations resolutions on the situation must be acted upon in the name of a common humanity otherwise we believe this international institution will expose itself as being as worthless as its predecessor, the League of Nations … a mere talking shop unable to impose any authority.

We call for intervention by the European Union, not only for pressure to be applied on America and Israel, but also for the creation of a European peace force to enter the area.

The Palestinians must not be sacrificed on the altar of Zionism.
